

AVDS (DENTAL SIG) NEWSLETTER/WEBSITE EDITOR'S REPORT

The period since May 2009 has been a quiet one for the the Newsletter/Website.

Several articles have been published including:

- Equine Dental Frequently Asked Questions
- Orthodontics in Small Animals
- Article discussing Equine Dental Care

Importantly the Dental Charts that are made available to AVDS members via the website have had a facelift and now include charts for more species. The species covered now are:

- Canine
- Feline
- Rabbit
- Guinea Pig

Work is currently underway to produce an AVDS Equine dental chart for use by members.

The services provided for us from our internet host have been fine and it was decided to stick with them throughout the rest of 2010 and into 2011.

No large scale print jobs have been performed this period.

Mass Email notifications have been successful this period, with only a handful of members not providing a working email address to the AVA for our use. I certainly think that the use of email and Website as a communication tool the membership is useful and certainly less time consuming than previous methods of printing and mailing.

Aaron Forsayeth